and Council Members*

Meenal Gupta, President WICCI, Haryana Public Service Council

BIO :-

I am a Content Writer by profession and a learner of Counselling Psychology. I have also worked as an Educator for 3.5 years and gained insight into the lifestyle of different women at different ages and posts.

The experiences gained during teaching life were the inspirations for writing different articles in Psychology Magazines, anthologies as well as in newspapers. The articles were meant to create awareness in the society about handling stress, problems and even children of different age groups.

Being a learner myself, I value the power of learning something new, every now and then. And with the help of my council, I would be glad to spread the idea of being an inquisitive learner.

I believe women are capable of doing everything, but sometimes all we need is some kindness, guidance and appreciation. And I along with my council members will try to provide everything we can, to make a difference.

Meenal Gupta
President

Jyoti Arora, Vice-President WICCI, Haryana Public Service Council

BIO :-

My name is Jyoti Arora, and I am a woman. I'm also a Ph.D. student of Human toxicology at the University of Iowa, US. I am working on improving cancer immunotherapies which has the potential to replace painful chemotherapies.

Before planting my roots in cancer research across the globe, I started in New Delhi, India, where I was born and brought up. I spent time growing my understanding of biochemistry and completed an M.Sc. in Medical Biotechnology.

Being a woman in science allowed me to grow another root, one that will branch off my hopes to inspire, to create opportunities, and give other women the foundation to become leaders across India and the world.

Kavita Gupta, Council Member WICCI, Haryana Public Service Council

BIO :-

I'm Kavita Gupta, a mother of two and an educator. For the past 26 years, I've been guiding and motivating students. I've spent the majority of my life among children, either my own or others'. I've always tried to help my students with all of my patience and enthusiasm.

I believe that each child is exceptional and unique in their own way, and that all we need to do is help them recognise this. I've even worked with underprivileged children in an attempt to educate them. Education is the key to a better life, and we, as educators, can help them open that door.

As a member of this council, I hope to disseminate the power of education not only among children, but also among ladies who did not have an education throughout their childhood.

I want to raise as much awareness among women as possible about the possibilities and opportunities that come with education.

Yukti Garg, Council Member WICCI, Haryana Public Service Council

BIO :-

I am a MBA professional working in a highly competitive market in the world, I have gained the ability to work under immense pressure and take care of my job as well as the responsibilities. My interpersonal skills and technical skills make me a great fit in a team and makes me a good team player when given an opportunity. An experienced professional with an experience of over a year and proven records. Expertise in team handling with leading teams to achieve goals.

I have always been actively participated extra curricular activities. I was the head of a society in my college at the time of post graduation. I always want to see myself becoming more skilled and efficient at my work. I want to learn and grow with every project I work on and share my experience with my subordinates so that they can also learn as I believe learning is most important for successful growth.

I am a Mandala artist also. It is like a meditation. All the intricate patterns I make, it help me keeping calm.

Ritu Singh, Council Member WICCI, Haryana Public Service Council

BIO :-

I am a researcher by profession working in the field of biotechnology. I have also volunteered in anganwadis and worked with children, teaching them and organizing different activities whenever possible. I consider women to be crucial for shaping the future generations.

I believe that women need to be an equal participant in the development of our society that is progressive, inclusive and secure to all despite gender and societal roles. I admire strong female roles models like Savatribai Phule, Anandibai Joshi, Michaelle Obama, and Ruth Bader Ginsburg and try to incorporate their teachings in my life.

A good effort goes a long way and with the help of this council and its members, I wish to be able to achieve a positive change.

Mona Gupta, Council Member WICCI Haryana Public Service Council

BIO :-

I am Mona Gupta, an M.com and having a deep dived thrust for an economics and accountancy. Gone through different profiles at various offices as an Accountant and Financial Advisor. I did also serve at district rural and development agency and dealt with rural women for funds allocation in an arena of government schemes.

I am an addressed and vocally advisor for society at large and working as a fundraiser for an ngo named saher foundation that is working for underprivileged sections. I did also served in the same capacity for an another ngo working for the welfare of injecting drug users back in 2013 under the aegis of Haryana state AIDS control society.

For now I am serving as an additional Director in a Boolean Digital and Security Pvt Ltd working in a domain of security surveillance and digital transformation for companies and establishments.

As a member of the council I would address the idea of financial stability and awareness among women in general and disseminate my knowledge as a social worker to women with history of drug abuse and anti social behavior to understand the reasons and psychology behind in particular.

Ambika Arora, Council Member WICCI Haryana Public Service Council

BIO :-

I am Ambika Arora. A homeopath treating people for the past 5 years. During my practice, I met a lot of women encountering health issues only due to lack of hygiene.

And this is my drive to join WICCI to create awareness among women about health and hygiene. I believe with the right motivation and information, we can help control the lifestyle issues faced by women. I see myself as the mediator between women and hygiene.

Also, being a boss lady I can lead and guide the budding entrepreneurs. I have learnt how to maintain a work-life balance myself and would always be enthusiastic about sharing my experiences with the world.

I believe women have come a long way and to go further, we all need to come together and share our paths towards better future.

Nishtha Pant, Council Member WICCI Haryana Public Service Council

BIO:-

I am Nishtha Pant, Senior Executive, Operation in Finance & Accounting. I am also pursuing my master's in commerce, and I have worked as an Educator for around two years.

While working with different professionals, I have gained a lot of values and have taught them in my life. Curiosity keeps me going for things, and I am an all-time learner who wants to stay updated about all the new and innovative things around me.

Being a woman means having a solid sense of identity, accepting your body as one that adapts and changes over time, being confident, and building up the people around you.

It means you have the wisdom to be grateful for what you have while still being hungry for growth. We all need to be aware of and love ourselves and create this kind of sisterhood for one another!

Shikha Singh, Council Member WICCI Haryana Public Service Council

BIO:-

I am Shikha Singh, an environmental enthusiast working in the domain of environment and sustainability for four years. Environmentalists worldwide are working and motivating people through various platforms, spreading awareness about our nature and human needs and supporting the public to make decisions about the limited use of resources. For ages, when talking about contribution to environmental conservation, India has always witnessed passionate women like Gauri Devi, a woman of the Bishnoi community who leads a very famous Chipko movement, and many others working to protect our mother earth.

I desire to be part of WICCI with the agenda to educate and help women socially and economically. Being literate and responsible could guide them to make the right choices, provide training, and assist in skill development, making them independent and bringing out their natural talents.

"There is no limit to what we, as women, can accomplish." So let's work together and help our nation achieve Sustainable development goals, making our living community sustainable and equitable.
